Office of Communications’ Fiscal Year 2005
National Strategic Communications Plan

Our Vision

“Advancing Agency Goals through Strategic Communication”

Our Strengths

As professional communicators, we are uniquely capable individuals who blend knowledge of Social Security programs and processes with expert use of state-of-the-art technologies and a bold, creative spirit. We advance the goals and objectives of the Social Security Administration by:

- Delivering accurate, timely and clear information to internal and external audiences;
- Promoting a favorable public image by building trusting relationships with individuals and organizations in local communities and at national levels; and
- Increasing accountability and responsiveness to the people we serve through performance and satisfaction measurement.

Our Plan

In FY 2005, the Office of Communications (OComm) will carry out targeted communications objectives in support of the Agency’s mission and goals. We will align these objectives with Social Security’s four strategic goals, as follows:

Goal: Deliver high quality, citizen-centered Service

- Message: You can expect us to provide you with high quality service in a timely and efficient manner.
  - Communications Objective 1: Market Social Security’s website to increase awareness and use of online services
    - Message: Social Security services online – the quick, easy and secure way to do business!
Communications Objective 2: Support Implementation of the Medicare Part D Program Subsidy Application Outreach
   • Message: [to be determined]

Communications Objective 3: Support program initiatives through public information and education
   • Message: Social Security touches the lives of nearly all Americans.

Goal: Ensure superior Stewardship of Social Security programs and resources
   • Message: The integrity of our payments, records and performance is a priority for Social Security.
      • Communications Objective 4: Educate the public about Social Security number integrity
         • Message: Social Security protects the integrity of your Social Security number. You can help too: do not carry your card with you, and keep it in a safe place.

Communications Objective 5: Promote the Agency’s progress in implementing the President’s Management Agenda
   • Message: Social Security is committed to delivering well-managed programs that the people of America expect and deserve.

Goal: Achieve sustainable Solvency and ensure Social Security programs meet the needs of current and future generations
   • Message: Social Security must be strengthened to meet the needs of future generations.
      • Communications Objective 6: Educate all audiences on the current Social Security system in order to increase understanding of solvency issues and challenges
         • Message: Social Security's long-term financing problems are serious and need to be addressed soon.
Goal: Strategically manage and align Staff to support SSA’s mission

★ Message: We value your skill, dedication and compassion in serving the American public.

★ Communications Objective 7: Improve internal communications so all employees understand their importance and value to the Agency

★ Message: You are a valued part of the Social Security family and what you do is important to the American public.

★ Communications Objective 8: Provide tools and marketing services to increase employees’ effectiveness as communicators

★ Message: Agency communicators will have the tools and information they need to be effective.

★ Communications Objective 9: Provide tools and marketing services to support Social Security’s efforts to attract and recruit high-performing workers

★ Message: Social Security is seeking qualified and talented people who want to make a difference in their lives and in the lives of others.

▼ In support of the above strategic communications objectives, OComm has identified a number of communications tactics on which to focus resources and efforts in Fiscal Year 2005. They are as follows:
