CRIMINAL ECONOMIC CRIME EXPERTS

Florida reported over 800,000 economic crimes during 2000. Public Law

Enforcement is overrun with reports. Economic Crime Detectives in some departments handle in excess of 200 active cases at a time. In order to solve as many crimes as possible, Detectives are forced to rank cases by solvability, political sensitivity or the time necessary to make an arrest. This process is based on the staffing levels of most departments, leaving any crime you may report unsolved.

Major corporations nationwide have discovered that to ensure the economic crimes they "fall victim to" be fully investigated, they must secure the services of qualified private investigators.

Finding a qualified investigator with the business experience to understand the impact of the crime against your operation can be very difficult. Diplomatic Tactical Services Inc. has the skills to solve crimes, connections to get charges filed promptly, and the necessary sensitivity to your concerns. www.diplomatictacticalservicesinc.com | Copyright © 2007-2008
